MONTHLY SUMMARY

The MGGF returned 2.7% in November. The Fund's long positions added 7.3%, while shorts and hedging detracted 2.1%. The AUD appreciated 4.4% against USD, which detracted a further 2.6% due to the Fund's ~50% holding in USD. Markets were very strong in November with the US election outcome taken positively and stronger than anticipated results from the leading COVID vaccine trials. The vaccine news particularly helped stocks that had suffered the most during lockdowns and there was some rotation away from our core internet, e-commerce and software holdings. Key contributors included High Performance Computing businesses ASML and TSMC, Climate champions Enel and Samsung SDI and Connectivity beneficiary Broadcom. While mindful of the risks around any upward pressure on interest rates, with US political risks fading and the other side of COVID in sight, we remain positive on equities.
